Twice in the course of the year the Church celebrates our Lord's Transfiguration on Mount Thabor – on the second Sunday of Lent in order to bear witness to His divinity as His Passion draws near, and again today to celebrate His exaltation in glory. Pope Callistus III ordered the observance of this feast for the entire Church on August 6 to commemorate the victory over the Muslim Turks near Belgrade in 1456, which was announced in Rome on this day.

St. Cajetan founded the Theatines, who endeavor to follow the manner and life of the Apostles. Trusting in God, they refrained from begging alms and waited until the faithful brought them help. His zeal for the salvation of souls caused him to be called "Hunter of Souls". It was said that he was an angel at the altar and an Apostle at the pulpit. He died August 7, 1547.

Saturday, August 8 St. John Mary Vianney, Patron of Priests, Confessor, III Class - White

Born near Lyons, France in 1786, ordained in August 1815, St. John Vianney was parish priest at Ars for nearly 42 years. His simple preaching touched the hearts of both young and old. Crowds flocked to the holy priest, who sat some days up to 16 hours in the confessional. Through his prayers, penances, and long years as pastor, he managed to revitalize a parish that had been morally and spiritually corrupt when he took over. He died in 1859.
