SS. Chrysanthus & Daria, St. Isidore the Farmer, Confessor, III Class

The Church presents us, in the person of this saint, with a model of that sanctity acquired in humbly accomplishing the duties of one's state in life, and in the faithful observance of the Divine Commandments. Having lived in the latter half of the twelfth century near Madrid, Spain, he became famous through various marvelous happenings which accompanied his works in the field. His great spirit of charity brought on him remarkable blessings of Divine Providence and made him worthy of the honors of the altar. He is the patron of all those who are engaged in agriculture.
